ODD FELLOWS GREET THEIR FRIENDS IN NEW QUARTERS

Informal Ceremonies Are Held Saturday Night; Program Followed by Dance

The formal opening of their new club rooms in the Ralphs building, 201 West Broadway, was held Saturday night by Lodge 338 International Order of Odd Fellows.

Between two and three hundred Odd Fellows and their guests were present for the ceremonies.

As Noble Grand, Alfred A. Baines of 1140 East Chestnut street, presided during the informal ceremonies.

Music for the occasion was furnished by Edwin Dilthey and family of Los Angeles. The entertainers also played for the dance which followed the program. A feature of the terpsichorean activities was an old fashioned square dance executed with much vigor and enthusiasm. John Valerus of 404 North Jackson street acted as dance master.

Cafeteria lunch was served in a room adjoining the large club rooms. For this a charge was made for each person. The menu consisted of sandwiches, coffee and cake.

Tribute to Odd Fellows

A brief speech on "Odd Fellowship" was made by E. Longley of Los Angeles, grand warden of the Grand Lodge of California. He paid a high tribute to the worthy ideals and noble aspirations of comrade Odd Fellows and their value to any community as patriotic, industrious, loyal citizens. He called attention to the fact that no one is free from the influence of a good man and that the influence of Odd Fellows can not be overestimated as a power for good.

As a special number Olaf Ambresan of 360 Myrtle street sang "An Old Fashioned Town" and as an encore "Dear Old Pal." He was accompanied upon the piano by his cousin, Miss Helen Kapus of the same address.

Many compliments were bestowed upon the Odd Fellows upon the attractiveness of their new quarters. These consist of a large hall suitable for either programs or dances, which is located in the northwest corner of the building, a billiard room adjoining it to the east and connecting into the kitchen. The entrance to the hall is through a small vestibule, to the east of which is a cloak room. Another lodge room on west side of the building is to be rented out to smaller organizations.

Color Scheme Attractive

The color scheme of the interior is creme colored wood and very light sky blue plaster for the upper walls and ceiling. All floors are of hardwood. Lighting fixtures of white porcelain are of the indirect variety. All outside rooms have numerous windows affording plenty of light and ventilation.

The kitchen, which is enameled in white, and lighted by a skylight, contains cupboards well stocked with dishes and every facility for the preparation of banquets.

As soon as it can be installed John Valerus of 404 North Jackson street, expects to open a soft drink counter in the billiard room. This will be in operation as a convenience at all times when Odd Fellows are at the club.

WRECKED AUTO AND BULLET HOLE ARE CAUSING PROBE

Coupe is Ditched Southeast of City; Signs of Battle Are Discovered in Car

What blood was spilled, what vengeance wreaked provide the mystery in the wreck of a motorcar, evidently stolen by bandits and ditched in the early hours of this morning in the vicinity of South Verdugo Road and Glassell avenue, southeast of this city.

L. Wright, who was motoring to this city, found the machine—a Haynes coupe—at 7 o'clock, and he notified the Automobile club offices here. A steam roller was sent to the scene of the wreck and pulled the car out of the ditch.

Bullet Hole in Window

Besides being stripped of accessories, it had been fired by the bandits and a bullet hole in the rear window indicated that some sort of a battle had occurred. The bullet was either fired out of the machine or struck someone inside, as there was no indication of it passing out through the top or front of the coupe.

There were evidences also that the party that ditched the machine had been drinking real liquor as two little tumblers were found in the wreckage and they smelled of "high-powered hootch," it is said.

Inquiry Under Way

The license number plates were of the new 1922 series, 475774, and an auto club insignia showed that it belonged somewhere in southern California.

An investigation into the circumstances of the theft is being made by the latter organization.

According to registration record the car is owned by J. F. Wiley of 704 American avenue, Long Beach.

Scores of Small Towns Cut Off From Outside Communication Result of Storms; Hundreds of Thousands Dollars Damage to Property

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Transportation and communication conditions throughout Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and parts of Illinois and Iowa were still in a chaotic state today as the result of the storm which began last Tuesday. Scores of smaller towns throughout the region were still cut off from telegraphic and telephonic communication and train schedules were demoralized.

The upper end of Lower Michigan, according to reports received here, is still sheathed in ice. Only one train has reached Traverse City since Tuesday afternoon. Thousands of telephone and telegraph poles are down and wires are tangled in an almost inextricable mass. Overturned and uprooted trees are strewn over large areas.

In the Traverse City region the storm raged for seventy-two hours, coating the entire district with a covering of sleet and ice several inches thick. Game birds were driven into farm yards seeking food when their customary feeding grounds were buried beneath snow and ice.

Conditions almost as bad throughout the mountain section of Wisconsin.

Reports from Appleton say eight railroad wrecks due to the storm have occurred in that vicinity.

Miles of telegraph and telephone poles are down and damage estimated at more than $300,000 has been caused to telephone facilities alone.

Fond du Lac and other cities are still practically cut off from wire communication. Interurban service between Milwaukee and Fond du Lac, Appleton, Nenah, Menasha, Oshkosh and other towns is badly crippled.

The overflowing of its banks by the Pecatonica river near Freeport, Ill., has caused fears of a destructive flood in that section. Weighted freight cars are being used on railroad bridges to protect them from the torrents and interurban and railroad traffice between Freeport and Rockford and Freeport and Beloit, Wis., has been discontinued.

PRINCESS AND VISCOUNT SIGN MARRIAGE CONTRACTS

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles, K. G,. whose nuptials will take place in Westminster Abbey tomorrow at noon, signed the pre-marriage contracts today. It is understood that the royal princess signed renunciation of her rights of succession. The last of the wedding receptions took place this afternoon at Buckingham Palace. Crowds are descending upon London and the streets are in gala attire. The city is taking on the aspect of a huge fair. There is a general air of rejoicing. Mary's wedding jewels are believed to be the most costly in existence. Their exact value is not known but some estimates have been as high as $1,500,000. Viscount Lascelles has given to his future wife the Clan Ricade jewels, among the most famous in all England. It is esimated that various charities will benefit to the extent of $1,000,000 as a result of the marriage. Westminster Abbey restoration funds probably will receive $100,000 through the sale of seats. To Westminster hospital will accrue nearly $25,000 for the sale of 450 seats. In addition to these, an average of 60 per cent of all funds collected for purchase of presents will be allocated to charity. In addition to Westminster two other London hospitals will receive about 5,500 pounds each. King George has reserved a large portion of the forecourt of Buckingham Palace for wounded soldiers, where they can view the wedding procession as it departs and arrives from Westminster Abbey. The investiture of Viscount Lascelles, with the Order of the Garter led to much conjecture today as to what further honors may be in store for him. It is understood that Princess Mary will not dispense with royal etiquette after the marriage and will not lose the social rights of her rank as a member of the reigning family.

WOMAN WILL AGAIN BE QUESTIONED IN TAYLOR CASE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—New developments, which were kept "under cover," in the investigation of the William Desmond Taylor murder mystery today indicated that a woman, one of the most prominent figures in the case, will be questioned for the second time at the district attorney's office within the next few days, for an explanation of recently discovered evidence involving her name. District Attorney Woolwine, it was reported, has decided that it is essential to the investigation, as a matter of precaution, that the woman add to the lengthy statement she made when she was first questioned by clearing up points developed since that time. While the probability that the woman might be questioned by Woolwine today loomed as the outstanding feature of the investigation in Los Angeles, the wife of Harry Fields, who "confessed" he aided in the murder, drove the last nail in the coffin in which her husband's sensational story has been buried as wholly without truth. Mrs. Fields, whose home is in Seattle, declared that Fields, who is in jail in Detroit, never visited her in Seattle February 3, two days after the murder, as he claimed in his so-called "confession." Fields said that

C. OF C. SECRETARIES WILL MEET NEXT AT SANTA CRUZ

Local Men Tell of Meeting at Which Many Problems Are Under Discussion

Santa Cruz was selected for next year's meeting place of the California Commercial Secretaries and Roscoe Lytell, secretary of the San Jose Chamber of Commerce, was elected president of the association while A. M. Robertson of Lindsay will continue to serve as secretary.

This was the report brought back from El Centro to Glendale today by Secretary James M. Rhoades of the local chamber. Assistant Secretary E. F. Sanders came home Saturday. Both were more than glad they were in attendance as many problems were worked out which will aid the civic upbuilding of this city.

Talks for Four Hours

The one big event of the convention was the address Saturday morning by Colonel Simmons of San Francisco who outlined the building of the chamber work with a chart. He talked for four solid hours without one of his hearers leaving the convention hall.

Forum meetings came in for their share of attention and it was advised the best method of maintaining interest is to discuss some certain industry, business or profession at each meeting. This idea will be followed out here and such subjects as real estate, dry goods, manufacturing, etc., will be the topic of experienced speakers.

The selection of committees and the character of the people on committees, the work to be done by the committees and the manner in which the different campaigns are conducted—all of which are largely matters for the secretary to decide—were gone into thoroughly under the direction of Lynn Ballard, Long Beach secretary. He brought out ways and means for getting the members of his organization at work.

Good Business Advice

Leslie B. Henry delivered the principal address of the convention and it was heartily appreciated because of its keen business advice. Mr. Rhoades was named a member of the resolutions committee.

"With the completion of the Colorado river project the Imperial Valley will make the Nile sink into insignificance," according to Mr. Rhoades who was greatly impressed by the early vegetable crops raised there, as well as the corn, cotton, cattle and citrus fruit.

Commercial Secretaries Held Up by Fifty Bandits

Fifty baby bandits at Brawly held up the twenty automobile loads of commercial secretaries visiting the Imperial Valley last week-end, according to Secretaries Rhoades and Sanders of Glendale.

As the cavalcade of visitors entered the city, a hawser strung across the road from barricades made a short stop essential. Leaping from behind fruit boxes, boys and girls dressed as bandits, and all masked, with everything from a toy pistol to regular .45 shooting irons, ordered "hands up."

They then filled the secretarial pockets with Imperial Valley grapefruit—the golden crop of the valley.

Masons Confer Third Degree Upon Quintet

The third degree of Masonry was conferred Saturday at the Masonic Temple upon five candidates by the local chapter of the Blue Lodge. The interrogation during the afternoon was under the direction of Harmon A. Strong of 336 North Louise street, who is senior warden, while the examination in the evening was supervised by Dwight W. Stephenson of 327 West Cypress street, who is a master in the order.

Those initiated were: S. A. Warren, 1418 East Maple street; F. Ziskind, 1400 Opeechee Way; I. B. Carlock, 415 Lincoln street; R. S. Brucker, 508 South Belmont street; and C. C. Vining of Los Angeles.

Local Men to Leave on Tour of Mexico

E. L. Osborn of 406 West Wilson avenue and A. Sneva of Montrose, Colo., will leave by automobile Wednesday morning on a two-months' tour of the western part of Mexico. They will travel about 600 miles south into that country inspecting cattle land and visiting various points of interest.

ATTEND I. O. O. F. OPENING

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Anderson, Mrs. Hattie E. Walker, and Charles R. Bernetzke, hotel-man, poet and author, were special guests from Los Angeles at the opening of the Odd Fellows' new club rooms on West Broadway Saturday night. They were delighted to find such a beautifully appointed quarters as the Glendale lodge now has.

PASTOR SAYS THERE ARE TWO KINDS OF KINGDOMS

Rev. C. M. Calderwood Says in Sermon One Is Without and One Is Within

"There are two kingdoms; the kingdom without and the kingdom within," declared Rev. C. M. Calderwood yesterday at the Congregational church. "We are always in danger of exaggerating this external kingdom which is ever before our eyes. The visible universe is so aggressively in evidence that we are in danger of thinking it to be the only universe or to be the supreme universe. This universe is large. It is a material universe, numerous and glittering. There never was a time when there were so many things to take hold of, to pile up, to accumulate, to be ambitious about as now. We have all been led to the top of an exceeding high mountain and have been shown the kingdoms of this world.

"There are delusions about this external kingdom. There is the delusion that happiness is to be found outside of us. If we could be somewhere else, if we could change conditions, if we get into a different environment then, we think, all would be well with our souls. There is the similar delusion that a man becomes wealthy by the accumulation of things. These may impoverish one instead of enriching him. And there is another delusion that a man succeeds as he conquers those things outside of himself. No man succeeds who does not conquer himself.

Minds Cluttered Up

"Now, let us look at the kingdom within for a moment. Is there anything there out of which a vital religion may be built Our minds are so cluttered up with vague conceptions of God, salvation, divinity, miracles that we sometimes dispair of real knowledge. Some of these conceptions are medieval and some are modern; some of these ideas are christian and some are pagan. Let us, for the moment, ignore our belief in God, Christ, Bible and ecclesiastical machinery and let us examine ourselves and see if we have anything within ourselves that is worthy of reverence and worship.

"There is the sense of ought. Where does it come from? Why do I feel it? My whole being cries out for a certain line of action when I am suddenly met with this "ought." Where did it come from? Who sent it? It is a power not ourselves making for right.

"Here are ideals that come winging their way into our line of vision. We did not fashion them. We were thinking of other things when they came. They are always calling, pleading, alluring. They demand unheard of sacrifices. There is a note of authority in them. Where did they come from? They are not our own.

Called To Something Higher

"Again, there are aspirations within me. It is a pull of my spirit upwards. I could be content with other things but this aspiration calls me to something higher.

"In addition to these I have an impulse for kindness, an indignation at injustice, a sense of regret and a capacity for communion with God. Where did all of these come from? You recognize them. Did you ever stop to think that right here you are in touch with the infinite? Men have looked everywhere for God; they have said, "Oh that I might know where I might find him." This power that is urging us on is not ourselves, but it is God that is within you. This is the God that you really know. If you cannot find God through these holy impulses within you, you will not find him anywhere. I do not say that you find all of God within yourself, that would be putting limitations upon the Infinite. But it is within you that you are made sure.

Of Glittering Empire

"This is what Jesus taught. People thought of a glittering Roman empire. But Jesus said they could not see the kingdom that way, for the kingdom is within. The kingdom does not come with force or observation. 'A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things that he possesseth.' A man built greater barns because he thought the blessed life came that way. Jesus said he was a fool.

"Become closely related to the power, that kingdom within. Find your joy in listening to God's voice within you. If you have a great religion it is because you have been brought face to face with that divine power that is within you. You cannot conquer the outside kingdom until you have discovered and developed that kingdom which is within. The golden age can't be made out of leaden people. We are looking for improved outward conditions, but any permanent improvement must come from regenerated lives.

"This is not communion with self but the recognition of the Father of our spirits. I am not calling upon you to worship yourselves but rather to worship the God who has manifested himself within you."

Belgian Queen First To Have Own Airship

BRUSSELS — There have been queens and queens, but Queen Elizabeth is the first to claim distinction by owning a private aeroplane.

Queen Elizabeth's two seated Bristol fighting plane has recently been delivered by an English firm. It is fitted throughout with silver and is painted in silvered colors, giving it a fairy-like aspect in the air.

The design of the ship and its fittings were made according to the Queen's expressed desires.

FOOTHILL DRIVE TO BE DISCUSSED AT C. OF C. MEET

Eagle Rock Body to Talk on Improvement; News Notes of Glendale Vicinity

The opening of Hill avenue, street car service, greater publicity and ornamental street lights—those are the questions to come before the meeting of the Eagle Rock chamber of commerce tomorrow night when it is called to order at 7:45 o'clock in the city hall.

All of these topics are vital not only to Eagle Rock, but the vicinity as the opening of Hill avenue for a foothill drive means the linking of Pasadena and Glendale by a scenic route. Street car service also concerns the patrons of the Glendale-Eagle Rock line, while publicity for Eagle Rock, like for Glendale, brings new people to the vicinity.

Readers of the Glendale Evening News who reside in Eagle Rock, and there are many, are urged to attend this session.

St. Patrick's Day Benefit

Last week's meeting of the Sunland Chamber of Commerce was devoted chiefly to plans for a St. Patrick's day benefit entertainment for Monte Vista lodge on March 17. The benefit will be at the lodge and will include dancing and entertainment features provided by outside talent.

Legion Commander Weds

Miss Mary Begue, well known for her activities in the American legion auxiliary work and one of Tujunga's most talented daughters, was married on Thursday morning of last week at the Santa Barbara Mission to Richard Smith, commander of Post No. 250, American legion, in the foothill community and a successful building contractor.

Two Mansions for Eagle Rock

F. Warner Link is building a nine-room two-story home on Holbrook avenue, in the eastern part of Eagle Rock. This will be one of the show places of the city, and commands a view of the valley and into the distance as far as Owensmouth. Frederick H. Wallis, a newcomes to Eagle Rock, has taken out a permit to erect a complete 10-room home at 242 North Douglas avenue, at a cost of $10,000.

Booster for Tujunga

Frank R. Moss, office manager for the Zellerbach Paper company, is one of Tujunga's most enthusiastic boosters. He has a holiday camp on Mountain View avenue, which he bought from Milton Said recently and also owns lots on the same street, which he has had for two years. He is planning to build on the latter and may make his permanent residence here, driving into the city each day to his business.

Willard's Best Put In 191 Motor Cars, States Henry Kuhn

It is hardly possible to pick up a newspaper these days without noting a reference to something new in the motor car industry. Improvements in springs, bodies, carburetors, motors, and other important working parts of the car are seemingly everyday affairs. Altogether the tendency is to decrease first cost as far as is consistent with good workmanship and material, according to Henry Kuhn of the E. W. Cizek Autolectric Co., at Colorado and Brand.

The most notable exception to the general tendency to cut manufacturing costs by substituting new materials, new designs, and new methods of production, is the automobile storage battery. The staunchness with which the principal battery manufacturers hold to their standards and to the details of construction of their product is striking proof of their faith that each is making a battery which is, in his opinion, as good as can be built.

Contrary to the general demand for lower priced materials and parts to be put into cars, one of the largest battery manufacturers, the Willard Storage Battery Company, of Cleveland, reports that there is more general use than ever before of their Threaded Rubber Battery. This is a higher priced product than the other types of automobile batteries which it manufactures, but notwithstanding that fact, there are 191 builders of motor cars and trucks furnishing this battery as standard equipment.

TWO GIRLS ARE KILLED

PLAINVIEW, Tex., Feb. 27.—Miss Gladys Solomon and Miss Belle Umberson were shot and killed while sleeping in a bed in Miss Umberson's home early today. Miss Cora Wilson, also sleeping in the bed, was not harmed.

An optimist, says an exchange, is the man who can make a mole hill out of a mountain of trouble.

TRY SULPHUR ON AN ECZEMA SKIN

Costs Little and Overcomes Trouble Almost Over Night

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment without delay. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Advertisement.

FINAL SERMON OF SERIES IS GIVEN BY REV. EDMONDS

Endless Chain of Faith and Prayer Brings Blessings, So Pastor Declares

The last of four sermons from St. Paul's letter to the Philippians was preached yesterday morning at the Presbyterian church by Rev. W. E. Edmonds who used the text: "My God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Jesus Christ."

"Each of Paul's epistles has an expression peculiar to itself," declared Rev. Edmonds. "A portrait of Christ" is this epistle. Paul had seen Him and he makes you see Him.

"This text is wonderful. Put it in your pantry and live on it. Some people look spiritually pinched and starved; their spiritual garments are threadbare; they live on scant measure. Didn't you hear last Sunday that we could do all things through Christ? Cheer up! God is on His throne; we are heirs.

"Old Paul in chains, in prison, stripped of all, persecuted and beaten says 'None of these things move me.' Now to cap the climax he says, looking away from himself, 'My God is able to supply all your need.' Paul's was an overflow life, always flowing out into others' emptyness from the well within.

Different Size

"Notice first he says the source is 'My God.' It takes nerve to say that under such circumstances. Everything depends on how large your God is and how large a share of your life He has. Some people's God is measured by their own little size or by their country.

"How much does Paul mean when he says 'My God?' Look through a great telescope into the marvelous heavens. He made and cares for all that; taking care of you is a feather's weight. Paul knew well all the great works of God in the old Bible history and the works of Christ while here in the flesh and this God of power and love will supply all our need according to His riches in glory.

"But Paul, when he said 'My God,' meant the God of the resurrection, the Christ who could come through the stone tomb and the closed door of the upper room, the Christ who ascended to the Father's right hand.

On Things Above

"Now 'according' is the hinge all depends on. A friend will give me money; all depends upon what he possesses. His gift will be according to what he has. Now when you multiply taht by infinity, how much is God worth?

"Set your affection on things above, in glory. Our glory is the glory in the face of our Saviour. We are to have our place in His presence, in the city with walls of jasper and streets of gold; the Lamb is the light of it and there is no sickness or crying. We would like to hurry to get there.

"Let us pass down the little buckets of need on the endless chain of faith and prayer and they will come up brimming with His overflowing blessing."

Understanding Great Need, Says Dr. Crist, In Sunday's Sermon

"Spiritual Perception" was the topic of Dr. C. M. Crist yesterday morning at the First Methodist church.

"If I had a mighty mechanical task to perform, mere physical strength would not enable me to perform it without some mechanical knowledge," declared Rev. Crist. "So it is with the spiritual. Knowledge is power. We must understand and obey the laws that govern the spirit. Destructive force can be bridled and used to bring about a great power in the right direction as in the rushing torrents that pour down from our mountains or the mighty breakers that roar along our shores. We must understand and operate with the spiritual laws. We cannot go contrary to the laws of the spirit and expect gratifying results.

"We are not going to create new laws, but put ourselves in harmony with them. We must have the divine touch of God to see spiritually. One cannot look through the natural eye and see spiritual things. One must be born again. The inward and real character of mind and heart determine what we see. Elisha saw through the spiritual eye beyond the hosts which surrounded him. The same is true of the natural life. We do not all see the same things. What we see is limited to our own perceptive capacity. Do you see the great army of God marching on to certain victory or do you see the foes of your own soul crushing out the spiritual life? Do you see in men the power to become sons of God?

"If I see a struggle of flesh and brute force for supremacy, it is hopeless, but if I see a sincere and honest heart in sympathy with God there is no question as to the ultimate outcome. Our hold on God and our faith in Him saves us. Life is a battle but not a hopeless one. We have many things to overcome. The inner miracle means an outward victory. Pray that your eyes may be opened in a spiritual way. Be good; fill a big place in a big way; do the big things and you shall have assurance in the heart that God is on your side and you shall be rewarded, victorious because you had sufficient spiritual perception."

Republican Senators Oppose Reservation

By J. BART CAMPBELL
Written for International News Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 27.—Vigorous opposition to the Harding-Brandegee reservation attached to the four-power Pacific treaty by the senate foreign relations committee was registered today by Republican senators otherwise favorably disposed toward the armament conference treaties. Critics of the reservation among these senators were divided into two groups. One includes Senator Kellogg of Minnesota and is opposed to all reservations as "unnecessary." The other objected to the reservation as "incomplete, indefinite and even vague in its phraseology."

Members of the second group said they intended to offer a substitute for the reservation when consideration of the Pacific pact is begun. Following is a tentative draft of the proposed substitute which was being handed around by them:

"The United States understands that this agreement (or treaty) neither creates nor implies any obligation to use or consider the use of its military or naval forces for the purpose of protecting from aggression dominions or possessions of any of the high contracting parties."

It was understood that Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, a leader of the "mild reservationists" in the League of Nations fight, probably would offer the reservation as more expressive of the administration view that the treaty does not commit the United States to the use of armed force than, in the judgment of a number of Republican senators, the Harding-Brandegee reservation is.

The so-called Chinese treaty was before the senate foreign relations committee today. While expected to provoke another controversy between the administration, Republican "irreconcilables" and Democratic members, it was believed they would be ordered favorably reported with the rest of the conference pacts.

Senator France, Maryland, Republican "irreconcilable," was to continue his speech in opposition to the Yap treaty in the senate which Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, charged was part of a filibuster on the part of the little group of Republican and Democrat "irreconcilables" to delay indefinitely ratification of the conference treaties in the hope that protracted debate will strengthen opposition to them.

It was Lodge's plan to hold the senate in session at night as well as during the day in the hope of wearing out what he termed "needless debate" and thereby force early final action on all of the pacts.

Styles of Today No Worse Than Those of Yesterday, She Says

CHICAGO—Many mammas and grandmas are wont to look upon the "frankly revealing knee-length skirt" of today with shocked sensibilities. But have they forgotten the old-fashioned bustle and the "pull back" skirt?

Miss Mabel Craig Stillman, of the Illinois Vigilance society, points out the styles of today are no more dangerous to the morals of the young than the old hobble skirt, the bustle and the other affectations of former years that were intended to emphasize the contours of the figure.

"Flapping galoshes, bobbed hair, hidden ears and skirts of sanitary length are merely indications of a desire to conform," said Miss Stillman. "They are not symbols of moral depravity. The young girl of today is morally O. K. and sound at heart."

In this connection Miss Marion Talbot, dean of women at the University of Chicago, recalls that when she went to college she wore a train.

"Nothing could be more unhygienic," she declared.

Sure, Max Is Willing To Be An American

BASLE, Switzerland, Feb. 27.—Max Oser, the humble aged riding master who is betrothed to Miss Mathilde McCormick, daughter of the harvester king, today replied to a query from the International News Service asking if he would become an American citizen in order to wed his fiancee.

"I shall certainly be very glad to become an American citizen," he replied courteously.

It had been reported from Chicago where McCormicks live, that "John D. Rockefeller, grandfather of Mathilde, objected to the match unless Oser would renounce his Swiss citizenship and become an American. Harold McCormick, father of the bride-to-be, is taking Mathilde on a trip to Florida, where John D. Rockefeller is wintering, in hopes, it is said, of removing any grandparental objections that may exist.

Auto Exhaust Used to Kill Garage Rats

ELYRIA, O.—Exhaust from autos is the latest "poison gas" employed to kill rats.

The innovation was used with success at Columbia, resulting in the killing of eleven rats, seven bushels of sparrows and several pecks of mice during a campaign participated in by most of the residents of that community.

A hose was attached to the exhaust pipe on the auto and the nozzle inserted under a barn, garage, or into a rathole, asphyxiating the rodents.

'A DOLL'S HOUSE' AT GLENDALE WITH NAZIMOVA

Ibsen Enthusiasts Delight in Exact Portrayal of Nora By Famous Star

For her first independent production Nazimova chose to present a filmization of Ibsen's famous feminist drama, "A Doll's House." The Scandinavian dramatist wrote the play some forty years ago and the leading role of Nora has been used as a stage vehicle by many stars, including Nazimova, herself, who met with unqualified success in the role not many years past. "A Doll's House" is released by United Artists. Ibsen enthusiasts and those interested in the presentation of Ibsen in this country will surely respond to "A Doll's House" presentation at the Glendale Theatre.

Words Echo Around World

When Ibsen wrote the words: "The sound of a door is heard from below" as the finishing touch to his now famous drama he made a phrase the echo of which has been heard 'round the world and laid the sound corner-stone of an idea that has developed in the last forty years into the present day status of woman in the home, in the business world, in politics and in the nation's life in general. It marked the first step in the emancipation of woman, in a manner of speaking, and was used as a premise in the feminist movement. It presented an argument that woman was not just a plaything for some man. All of which has contributed unusually wide fame to the drama and its title.

Nazimova Excellent

The most prominent quality the film contains is the acting of the cast. Headed by Nazimova, who gives a performance that is an exact visual conception of the Nora that Ibsen intended, it contributes work that is marked with excellence, both in technique and appearance.

Other film attractions of interest make up a full program which few photoplay-goers will miss.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients in a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.—Advertisement.

he fled to Seattle from Los Angeles and visited his wife before leaving for the east. Discussing the "wild story" told by her husband, Mrs. Fields informed the Detroit police that he is a narcotic addict and has long been associated with "dope" peddlers. She expressed utter disbelief of his "yarn" that he drove the automobile used by Taylor's slayer whom he named as Wong Lee, a Chinese gunman and narcotic smuggler. Three telegrams sent by a woman in Los Angeles to a friend in San Francisco, two on the night of the murder and one the following morning, were being traced by detectives in the northern city today. The telegrams supplemented the woman's telephone message to her friend at a San Francisco hotel on the night of the slaying in which she said she was "in trouble" and in need of help. A woman known as "Mrs. Walker," to whom the telegrams and the telephone message were sent, was sought by the detectives. The name of the woman who sent the messages is known to the investigators in Los Angeles and copies of the telegrams have been obtained. While the telegrams do not directly indicate that the woman who sent them has any guilty knowledge, it is believed that an investigation of them will throw new light on the case. Detective Herman Cline who was sent to San Francisco to locate "Mrs. Walker," and trace the telephone message, has returned here with the announcement that his search there was futile.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—More than 55,000,000 church members in the United States were urged today in a call that went out from federal council of the Churches of Christ in America to support the conference treaties now pending in the senate and ask the senate to ratify them. Give Warning Against Too Large Navy Slash

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 27.—A timely warning was given to the republican congress against going too far in reducing the size of the American navy. The warning, which was more in the nature of a strong hint, was conveyed by President Harding to the members of the house naval affairs committee at a White House conference.

The members of the committee were summoned to the White House by the president and there was a 'full exchange of views" as to the cutting and slashing that is to be done to the American navy. No figures were set and no program was agreed upon, it was stated by those participating, the meetiing resolving itself into a discussion of opinion.

Those who say prohibition is not being enforced should read the wood alcohol death list.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Mary's Getting Married!
Americans More Satisfying
Where Real Trouble Lies
Coal Miners' Strike Impends

By Gil A. Cowan

FOR the next twenty-four hours the newspapers of the world served by telegraphic dispatches will reek with the terrible details of Princess Mary's wedding to a moustached viscount who wouldn't get a glance from a Glendale girl.

S'all right for royalty to get married, but why we should waste columns—and we will—on such an event seems surprising. Of course, Mary must be a nice girl for her father and her grandfather were English kings. Really, it must be great to be a king's daughter and receive a couple of thousand wedding gifts or so. Quite spiffy, don't you know!

Yes, the publicity given the princess would make a movie star worth a thousand or two more a week. Viscount Lascelles is a "lucky guy," even if he is an essential supernumerary to the occasion.

Somehow there is something satisfying about the American way with weddings. The young couples here hie away to San Bernardino or Santa Ana, or call in a justice of the peace, and have the whole thing a matter of history before their friends even know the nuptial knot has been tied.

Hardly a day passes but what an elopement is chronicled in these columns, although they are so common nowadays no one worries much about the circumstances or the cluster of huckleberries on the lamp post under which the pastor performed the last sad rites.

As the result of much truth and some fiction being printed in the east regarding the motion picture people of Hollywood and Los Angeles, the good people of southern California are beginning to question their own eyes and ears as to what they see and hear regarding their neighbors.

Books could be written on the subject, but a generality can be drawn briefly which will describe the situation as it actually exists.

There are good and bad people in every line of endeavor. Probably there are as many good, clean, wholesome actors and actresses as other professional people. Some doctors, druggists, nurses, attorneys and newspapermen are known to be dope fiends, etc.

However, the photoplay makes its celebrities the most talked of characters in the land and any good thing, or any bad thing, they do is magnified just that much more. Therefore, when a certain actress committed suicide, when a certain actor was arrested for using dope, when a certain comedienne took the "cure," when a certain comedian was charged for murder following a drunken debauch—of course, they became the topic of conversation. Their friends and business associates naturally suffered, although none of these events took place in Hollywood!

It behooves the film folk to watch their step, but beyond that the American public should see to it that the depravity of New York does not continue to control picture production, news associations, banking institutions and business in general. There is where the real trouble lies.

Hollywood is not to blame. Neither is Los Angeles. Nor is the profession at large.

Reading the papers you will notice articles on every hand dealing with the impending coal strike.

Now aren't you glad that southern California is not dependent on coal; yet it will be a national catastrophe to have the mines shut down.

Floyd W. Parsons has an enlightening article in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post. Read it and watch developments as reported by the International News Service leased wire which serves this paper.

Motor Recklessness Causes Heavy Toll

During the year 1921, 57 persons were killed and 283 injured in grade crossing accidents in the six states served by the Southern Pacific company's Pacific system, according to a report made public yesterday by R. J. Clancy, assistant to the general manager in charge of safety work. This is a slight relative increase over the casualties for 1920, despite the safety campaign of the company. Clancy in his report, shows, however, that had it not been for the tragedy of Proberta, Calif., where thirteen high school students were killed, the number of fatalities for 1921, correlated to the number of registered automobiles and locomotive miles for this year, would have shown a decrease of about 11 per cent.

LENTEN SUBJECT BY DR. H. C. FUNK OF LUTHERANS

'Lesson Teaches Us That What Is Written by Prophets Shall Be Accomplished,' He Says

"A Lenton proclamation" was the subject of Dr. H. C. Funk yesterday morning at the Lutheran church.

"Our lesson teaches us that what is written by the prophets shall be accomplished," declared Rev. Funk. "God's law never changes; the same yesterday, today and forever. The moral obligation to bring little infants into covenant relation with God never changes. What is it that changes? Only the ceremony by which we ratify or acknowledge the obligation. Now it is infant baptism.

"There are those, who object to bringing children to Christ in holy baptism because the ordinance is not specifically repeated in the New Testament. Neither are the ten commandments repeated in the New Testament. The commandments were the established law in the Old Testament. In like manner receiving infants was the established law in the same book.

"The purpose of the New Testament, however, is not to state the laws concerning these things, but to fill them. The Saviour said: 'Think not that I am going to destroy the law or the prophets! I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill.' Thus when the Lord spake by the prophet Ezekiel, 'Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you and ye shall be clean'; also by the mouth of the prophet Isaiah, 'So shall he sprinkle many nations.'

"Then we should turn to the New Testament and see whether these prophecies have been fulfilled. Paul writing to the Hebrews says, 'Let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience'—just exactly what God said he would do by the mouth of his prophets.

"While the man of our next text was physically blind and a beggar, he also represents the poverty of spiritual blindness. There are those who live in fine houses and fare sumptuously every day who nevertheless are spiritual beggars. Alas, how many there are who do not see the beauty of the Word of God. Many do not see the beauty of the church, which is the 'Bride of Christ' or the beauty of worshipping Him in His holy temple.

"The church has rich blessings to impart and those who neglect her altars are missing something that is worth while. Let us, with renewed zeal, during these Lenten days, proclaim the beauty of the Word. Here you will find that which satisfies your longing as nothing else can. 'He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved.' Isn't that a blessed assurance? Don't you wish that every one of your family and friends were baptized and believing? But that is not all. Listen, 'He that believeth not shall be damned.'"

CHEAPER THAN TO BUILD
How foolish to buy a lot and build when you can get this wonderful 6 room bungalow on the most exclusive and beautiful street in Glendale amid magnificent homes for $6650. I challenge any builder to duplicate it for $8,000 and it's on a $3,000 lot. Can you beat it. No, not in all Glendale, and you would not get the chance but for the fact that the owner must raise some money at once. A. A. Carver, Agent, 121 West Maple Street.

HE HAD NO EXPERIENCE

Down in Texas the short cotton crop forced a large number of country negroes to the cities. One of these applied for a job at one of the large employment agencies. "There's a job open at the Eagle Laundry," said the man behind the desk. "Want it?" The applicant shifted uneasily from one foot to the other. "Tell you how it is, boss," he said finally. "I sure does want a job mighty bad, but the fack is, I ain't never washed a eagle."

HARDING DISFAVORS CONFERENCE ON HOUSING NOW

Cost of Selling Meat Given by U. S. Agricultural Department Survey

By U. S. Press Association.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 27.—President Harding, in a letter to Senator King, Democrat, of Utah, declared he considered it inadvisable at this time to call a national housing conference. The executive also asserted that he did not know "of a legislative palliative" to relieve home shortages, and added that he very much doubted "if we ought to try to create one." "Building conditions are peculiar to individual communities," the President said. "In such communities where there is developed a manifest shortage of housing, there have been local conferences held, usually under the auspices of the boards of trade or chambers of commerce, into which conferences have been invited representatives of the material men, contractors, spokesmen for labor and for banking, and building and loan associations.

"Whether this is not the most practical plan is yet to be determined. I cannot think of any way in which the Federal government can help the situation other than by some such means."

While "some good came from the conference on unemployment," the President stated, and while he "hoped good results will follow the agricultural conference," he considered it advisable to await "substantial evidences of accomplishment" of the conferences already held before calling any more.

Cost of Selling Meat

The cost of selling meat through retail stores is nearly double what it was in 1913, or 5.86 cents per pound in 1921 compared to 3.19 cents per pound in 1913, according to a survey just completed by the United States Department of Agriculture. The cost of retailing meat in all types of stores in 1919 was found to be as follows: Of each dollar spent by the consumer for meat 81.14 cents was spent by the retailer for meat at wholesale; 16.57 cents represented the expense of retailing; and 2.29 cents the retailer's net profit.

The items of expense in meat retailing were as follows: salaries and wages, 10.25 cents out of each dollar of sales; rent, 1.33; ice and refrigeration, 0.77; wrappings, 0.76; heat, light and power, 0.21; interest, 0.51; miscellaneous expense, 2.74; making total operating expenses of 16.57 cents on each dollar of sales.

Wages were the largest single item in the cost of retailing meats, amounting to 61.86 per cent of gross expense in 1919. The average wage of meat cutters increased from 32 cents per hour in 1913 to 60.8 cents per hour in 1920 and declined only slightly to 60.7 cents per hour in 1921. The wage cost of retailing $100 worth of meat in 1913 was $14.82 while the same item for the same quantity of meat costing $126.77 in 1921 was $27.87. While the wholesale price of meat declined from 1919 to 1921 the cost of retailing meat increased and the principal items, wages, rent, ice and refrigeration, and miscellaneous expense, continued almost as high in 1921 as in 1921. Labor costs are also involved in other retailing expense items, such as refrigeration, wrappings, heat, light and power.

Would Pool Railroad Cars

A plan for pooling the 2,500,000 freight cars of the country for their "joint use" by the railroads through one central agency under railway auspices was filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission in connection with its hearings on rate levels by S. Davies Warfield, president of the National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities. Such an arrangement, he said, would save several million dollars annually. It would assist in meeting "the present grave situation," he added, "by coordinating the existing agencies of transportation and would meet the regional and seasonal needs of the country's freight-car requirements."

'Pancho' Villa Refuses to Oppose Obregon

By CHARLES MARKS
Written for International News Service

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 27.—Invitations to Francisco Villa, or "Pancho," as he used to be known in the days of his outlawry, to join the revolutionary agitations against the Obregon government have fallen upon deaf ears for the former bandit-rebel now looks with a stern and disapproving eye upon anything that opposes law and order.

Villa's loyalty to the government is more notable in contrast with the wave of anti-government agitations now sweeping some quarters. It was reported that "Pancho" to set at rest any anxiety that may be felt toward his attitude, will shortly come to Mexico City to reaffirm his support of the Obregon regime.

General Antonio Ruiz, who has just been executed in Chihuahua for plotting against the peace and dignity of the state, was delivered to the federal authorities by Villa. Ruiz had gone to Villa's ranch at Cantillo to seek "Pancho's" co-operation in an anti-government plot. The former rebel chieftain declared that his first citizenship duty was to the state. He seized the unsuspecting Ruiz and turned him over to the federal troops.

Colonel Jose Pruneda, brother of the executed rebel leader, Antonio Pruneda, has been brought here for trial on the charge of complicity in rebel activities.

Republican Leaders Worried Over Tangle

By J. BART CAMPBELL
Written for International News Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 27.—Republican leaders of Congress admitted frankly today they were worried over the existing legislative tangle which is threatening to carry the present session well into, or even through the coming Congressional campaign.

The Republican party "whips" outside as well as within Congress are known to be much worked up over the prospect of this session continuing during the spring and summer primaries in which one-third of the Senate and the entire House membership must first go to the bat for the re-election.

With Senate and House Republicans at cross purposes over the tariff and the soldier bonus, which Republican leaders are fearful will become two of the chief issues the Democrats are banking upon to regain control of the House, the plan for an adjournment not later than June 1 now seems to be a forlorn one.

Indefinite delay is menacing the administration program for early ratification of the several pacts before the demand for further information made by the Republican "irreconcilables" and Democrats concerning the treaties.

The tie-up over the soldier bonus in both Houses renders uncertain what kind of a bonus bill will be passed eventually or how soon one can be passed by both chambers.

The action of the Republican members of the Senate finance committee in dropping the American valuation plan incorporated in the Fordney "permanent tariff" bill passed by the House and in reverting to foreign valuations as a basis for levying ad valorem duties has brought them in serious conflict with House Republican leaders who favor the American valuations scheme.

The president may be forced to intervene again, it is generally believed, before the break over the tariff.

VAN NUYS ACTIVITY WINS RESULTS IN PAST 12 YEARS

Remarkable Record Made in Brief Time; Outlook for Future Is Excellent

Twelve years ago this past week Van Nuys was put on the market as a San Fernando valley townsite. With the most beneficial rains in years to insure good crops, both in orchards and fields; with prospects bright for good prices for the products that will be grown; with a program of building activity ahead to keep artisans employed; with petitions filed and accepted for the permanent paving of over ten miles of side streets leading into the city; with money conditions easier than for several years; with a strong Chamber of Commerce, a large farm bureau center and a live, wide-awake Woman's club; with church homes for most of the leading denominations; with increased facilities in the public schools at a cost of nearly $200,000—with all of these the twelfth year should be a humdinger, says the Van Nuys News.

Bananas and Booze

What a nice bunch of bananas City Marshal Cole and Deputy Kyle of the Burbank police force found in a peddler's wagon the first of last week. It covered some high-powered "hootch" he was selling, it is said, and, as a result, E. Cohn now gives his address as the county jail, awaiting trial in the federal courts for failing to read the eighteenth amendment.

Laying Out Walnut Groves

The surveyors are getting ready to set the stakes for the leveling up of the two-hundred acre holding of the Oxnard Land company, southwest of Owensmouth near the Show ranch, which will ultimately be set to walnuts, making one of the largest groves in the valley. George E. Hume is looking after the work.

Powder Orange Peel

The Genevieve Jackson company of Burbank has received an order for reducing 500 tons of wet orange peel to a state of absolute freedom from moisture. Dehydrated powdered orange peel is used for many purposes, one of which is in the preparation of smoking tobacco.

Lankershim Recognized

The Standard Oil company, realizing the rapid growth the Lankershim district is making, has put a special agent here to look after their business and built it up so that a headquarters can be located here. The representative is J. E. Rockwell.

Burbank's Schools Crowded

Burbank's school board is working out plans to secure additional school facilities for the school children there. The enrollment has grown so rapidly that four basement rooms have had to be transformed into temporary classrooms. The library also has become a classroom.

Zelzah Loses Paper

With last week's issue, the Zelzah Tribune, published by H. E. Whitaker at Zelzah, suspended, and the plant moved to Lynwood, where Mr. Whitaker will start a paper. The Van Nuys News has arranged to supply his subscribers whose subscriptions have not expired.

RULES ANNOUNCED FOR 'FIRST CAR' TO YOSEMITE

Fine Bronze and Silver Plaque Will Be Awarded Driver Opening Oak Flat Road

YOSEMITE, Feb. 27.—Rules to govern the annual award of the beautiful bronze and silver plaque offered last spring by Yosemite Lodge to the first car into Yosemite valley over an open road were announced today.

In putting up a trophy, Yosemite Lodge was actuated by a desire to do something that would really benefit the thousands of persons anxious to pay another visit to Yosemite valley as soon as the roads are open. Another resort for many years had been offering a cup to the first automobile into the park, which aroused keen competition and took care of the "stunt" side of Yosemite motor travel, as the winning cars performed many notable feats to achieve passage over the snow-blocked roads. Accordingly, Yosemite Lodge undertook to provide a trophy which would not require any circus stunts to win, but would keep dealers and others on their toes to see who would be the first to demonstrate that it was possible to get into the valley by motor, thereby proving to the waiting world that the greatest of all vacation spots again is available to the automobilists.

Rules Are Explained

It is one of the conditions of the rules governing the award of the trophy, which have been drawn up with the advice of various motor experts, that the road must be opened to "ordinary travel"—that is, it must be possible for an average driver to follow the first car into the park. One text of this will be announcement by the superintendent of Yosemite National Park that the road traversed is open to the public within one week after the first car has entered.

The Yosemite Lodge trophy is one of the most beautiful ever offered in competition. The bronze and silver plaque, decorated with giant Sequoias in bas-relief, is mounted on polished redwood. It was won last year by a 1921 model Buick.

Following are the rules:

1. Yosemite Lodge will award a bronze and silver plaque of emblematic design mounted on redwood to be contested for annually by stock cars and to be awarded each year to the automobile starting from a state highway which first opens to ordinary travel to Yosemite valley any one of the regularly used automobile mountain roads. The use of block and tackle will be permitted but outside assistance in the form of being towed or assistance of crews greater than the seating capacity of the automobile being used in the test or assistance of persons not making the entire trip in the car being used in the test shall not be allowed.

Route Is Given

2. Automobiles contesting for the trophy must make the journey to Government Headquarters, the Sentinel Hotel or Yosemite Lodge (all of which are in Yosemite valley) under their own power. Descent into Yosemite valley must be by way of the Big Oak Flat or Wawona grades, but the use of any other regularly used automobile mountain road leading to these grades will be permitted. Contesting cars must comply with park regulations governing the operation of motor vehicles.

3. The trophy shall be held each year by the winner until again won during the following season. It shall become the permanent possession of the first firm or individual winning it three times with the same make of car.

4. Competing cars must be checked out by an official of a newspaper or the Western Union or Posal Telegraph companies at the most adjacent point on any highway entering Yosemite National Park from which wire service is available. They must be checked in on arriving in Yosemite valley by some official of the Government Headquarters and the regular automobile license which all machines entering the park must purchase should be endorsed by the superintendent or chief ranger to show that the car is the first one of that year over an open road.

Giants May Have Brothers As Regulars

Jess and Virgil Barnes are expected to be prominent on the New York pitching staff next season. Jess is a veteran and earned fame in two stirring victories over the Yanks in the world series. Virgil has been farmed out in years past, but now is said to be ready for the big show.

The WORLD OVER
By FRANKLIN B. MORSE
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

There is one feature in the department of kicking in the American game of football that seldom, if ever, is seen. That is the kicking of a drop kick on the run. Rugby players of England and Australia commonly are found capable of accomplishing this feat. To be sure, the game of English Rugby is more suited to this particular stunt than obtains in the American game with its charging forward line of defense and low tackling.

There is one man who stands out in the history of the American game who was versatile in this respect, and taht was Pat O'Dea who played with the University of Wisconsin, more than two decades ago. At that, Pat was an Australian product and arrived at Wisconsin with a reputation as a kicker. He fully lived up to it.

It is doubtful if ever, before or since, there has been a player on the American gridiron who could match the versatility of this man in the department of kicking. It is a fairly safe assumption to say that O'Dea was probably the best kicker of all time on the American football field.

O'Dea showed in the middle west, and later in the east, such punting and drop kicking as never before had been seen in this country. He kicked holes in the sky and in his opponents from every angle of the field. If hard pressed he would kick while on the run and as often as not the ball went between the goal posts. He turned this trick against Minnesota in his first season at Wisconsin. In the center of the field O'Dea dropped back for a punt, but the line in front of him melted with would-be tacklers coming from all directions. Pat did the next best thing, ran, and while sprinting down the field dropped the ball on the forty yard line for a field goal.

The distance of O'Dea's punts and field goals have never been exceeded, football records to the contrary. These have only been kept with any semblance of regularity long after O'Dea was performing. Thus in the game with Northwestern University in 1898 the ball was on the fifty-three yard line. Pat dropped back, ostensibly for a punt, but instead he booted the ball over the cross bar for a field goal. Professor "Sunny" Pyro, of the university, marked the spot from where the ball got its impetus and it was just ten yards back from where it was snapped—a drop kick from a distance of 63 yards.

In 1897 the Badgers went east to meet Yale at New Haven. Yale won by a score of 6 to 0—O'Dea missing a tackle on Richards who had broken through the line. But his kicking was a revelation. Once, standing back of his own ten yard line, he booted the pigskin almost ninety yards, the ball rolling to Yale's goal line. That he did not score several field goals during the game was due largely to the fact that the line in front of him was broken up practically every time the Badgers got a good look at the Yale goal posts.

His punting duels with Herschberger of Chicago are well remembered by the old time football fan. O'Dea was not a strong man physically. Many of his games were played through on sheer grit, but he was high in the list of daring and spectacular open field runners.

SPORTS CHATTER
By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

In the twelve years from 1910 to 1921, Pacific Coast athletes have figured prominently in the make up of the various All-America track and field teams.

The Pacific coast has shown its greatest strength in the sprints, hurdles and field events, but to date the Pacific coast has been palpably weak in middle distance and distance running. This weakness is best explained by the fact that not once in twelve years has the coast produced a man who has been good enough to include in any track event above 220 yards.

Unquestionably the coast has shown to great advantage in the jumps, weight events and hurdles, the only events in this category that the coast has not been named are the fifty six pound weight, hammer throw and hop, step and jump. Of the total of seventeen events that this series has covered the Pacific coast at one time or another during the past twelve years has been represented in ten of them.

There have been years when Pacific coast athletes have been named on these All-American teams, but their representation has been credited to eastern organizations. For example, Earl Thomson, the hurder, started his career on this coast, but all his All-American representations have been for Canada in 1918, Dartmouth 1920 and Boston A. A. last year, each time as a hurdle representative. Then again Fred Kelly is another example and represented the New York A. C. in 1919, while Carl Johnson of Spokane was selected as the broad jumper in 1918 with University of Michigan tacked after his name.

The list of coast selections and events in the twelve years past follows:

100 yards, Howard Drew, U. S. C., 1914.

100 yards, C. Paddock, U. S. C. and Los A. C., 1920, 1921.

220 yards, G. Parker, O. C., 1914; M. Kirksey, O. C., San Francisco, 1917; H. Williams, Spokane A. C., 1919; C. Paddock, Los Angeles A. C. 1921.

120 yards, high hurdles, W. A Edwards, U. of C., 1910; Fred Kelly, U. S. C. and L. A. A. C., 1912-1915, inclusive.

220 yards, low hurdles, F. Murray, O. C., San Francisco, 1915; F. Murray, Stanford, 1916; W. Wells, Multnomah A. A., Portland, O., 1920.

Norma Talmadge in 'Love's Redemption on T. D. & L. Screen

Norma Talmade's latest picture, "Love's Redemption," opened to excellent business yesterday at the T. D. & L. Theatre. This wonderful star will appear in this beautiful story again today only. Norma Talmadge, who has a host of admirers, is exceptional in "Love's Redemption," and it is not surprising that her films attract such wide attention. This is by far the best Talmadge picture seen in months and deserves particular praise.

Remember today is the last showing of this picture for tomorrow the T. D. & L. opens with the picture that has become the movie rage everywhere, "Peacock Alley." In this Metro release for Tiffany Productions, Inc., presented by Robert Z. Leonard, Mae Murray portrays the part of a Parisian dancer, who, as as the darling of the famous city of pleasure, is feted and adored for her daring and artistic creations. She falls in love with a youthful American, a small town boy, and goes back to his home only to find that the people of the little village are scandalized at his French wife. The rude awakening among the bright lights of Broadway gives this story a turn which makes it one of the most dramatic offerings of the screen.

The weather prophet who says we are going to have rain the day of an auto race may be right, but he ought to be suppressed just the same.
